Senator Clark, of Montana, has been reading the predictions of a cold Winter, and gone and bought 5,000 acres of coal land.

Mr. Warmbath, of Boston, has recently returned from an Arctic expedition. He didn't strike anything warmer than himself all the time he was up there.

Three more "gushers" were "turned in" at Beaumont, Texas, Sunday. This makes sixty-nine up to that time, on Spindle Top. There must be an ocean of oil under that hill.

It is said that Editor Watterson, of Louisville, is nursing Presidential aspirations. We have no doubt, if this be so, that he will keep them warm. There is nothing frigid about Henri.

The Carnegie Polytechnical Institute to be established in Pittsburg will represent $17,000,000, $4,000,000 of which will be furnished by the city to pay for the site, the remainder by Mr. Carnegie.

Johann Most goes to prison for twelve months. Serves him right, for besides publishing an article which urged and defended murder, he stole it to "fill up" with. He had better have filled up on beer.

A Massachusetts man cures himself of the headache by going into the woods, catching a snake and carrying it around in his hat. When he gets people to believing in this cure he will probably start a snakery.

In addition to the Englishmen who are over here to study American methods of manufacturing, some railroad men have come over to study our way of running railroads. It would be cheaper for them to hire some Americans to go over there and teach them how to do things.

An old fellow died in Wisconsin recently leaving $3,500 to be divided among several heirs, on the mathematical equation plan, and now they have all the mathematical experts in that neck of woods figuring to solve that will. STEAMSHIP LINE TO NEW YORK.

Movement by Merchants for Competing Line About to Culminate.

The committee of business men recently appointed to arrange for a new steamship line from Wilmington to New York, mention of which has been made several times in these columns, expect in a very short time to call a meeting of subscribers, at which a full organization will be had. The new line now appears a certainty.

The committee is composed as follows: C. W. Worth, J. A. Taylor, S. P. McNair, Samuel Bear, Jr., and J. A. Arringdale.

Y. M. C. A. Entertainment Course.

When Miss VanWagner, who is with the European Stars, the opening concert of the association's course, was here last year it was the almost universal opinion that she was without exception the finest violin virtuoso who ever visited Wilmington. One of Wilmington's critics, who is a gifted violinist, says that Miss Van Wagner has technique that knows no limitation. All who heard this gifted young lady last year will need no persuasion to secure their patronage this year. The European Stars have been greatly strengthened by the addition of Miss Chase, who is one of Georgia's belles as well as one of the South's sweetest singers Her voice ranges from E to D flat, and her singing is said to be thrilling in the highest degree.

Some Carnival Visitors.

Among the Carnival visitors are the following registered yesterday at The Orton: H. E. Wells and A. C. Phelps, Columbia, S. C.; W. M. Carter, Wilson; A. W. McLean, W. P. McAllister, A. E. White, Lumberton; S. A. Starling, Misses Dunnie Koonce and Laura Freeman, Hubert; W. P. Burruss, Newbern; Jos. E. Robinson, Goldsboro; A. Shoaf, Jacksonville; L. T. Cottingham and wife, Maxton; C. B. Redmond, Lumberton; E. G. Davis, Maxton; W. F. Stevenson, Cheraw, S. C.; D. McRacken, wife and sister, G. W. Daniel and J. R. Daniel, Whiteville; W. F. Derham, Fair Bluff; W. H. Daniels, Mullins, S. C.

The Superior Court.

All of yesterday's session of the Superior Court was taken up in the continued hearing of the case of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co. vs. J. P. Kirven, spoken of in these columns yesterday. There is a mass of testimony both verbal and by deposition but the case will likely get to the jury this morning. The members of the jury are as follows: J. F. Stolter, Walter Way, F. T. Skipper, J. B. Watters, J. W. Barnes, W. G. Goodard, Geo. C. Dew, D. J. Westbrook, C. L. Fowler, E. T. Conoway and Geo. T. Grotgen.

Innes and His Band.

Miss J. W. Walker, business manager of "Innes and his Band," which will be at the Opera House in Wilmington on January 6th, arrived in the city yesterday and is arranging for the coming of this celebrated company of entertainers. A lady as business manager of an organization of such note as Innes' Band is rather a novelty, but that's what is claimed by Innes—originality, and Wilmington theatre-goers may look forward with pleasure to its coming.

Repertoire Company Next Week.

Mr. M. A. Mosely, advance agent of the Dixie Stock Company, arrived yesterday and arranged for the appearance of his company here for a solid week, beginning Monday night, with matinee on Saturday afternoon. The Dixie Company has a popular repertoire and will open with "Knobs O'Tennessee." Other attractions in the repertoire are "Davy Crockett," "Under Two Flags" and "Rip Van Winkle."

ABOUT THE CARNIVAL

People from the Adjoining Towns and Country Began Arriving Yesterday Morning.

THIS IS THE ELKS' DAY.

Parade To-night at 9 O'clock Will Be Grotesque and Interesting—Free Attractions Are All Good—Street Gambling Stands Closed.

The third day of the Carnival yesterday was not one whit behind its two distinguished predecessors both as to crowds in attendance and weather conditions. The people from adjoining towns and country were in great evidence, and that's really for whom the Carnival was designed. The city folks, too, had lost none of their fair interest, and around almost every booth were gathered anxious throngs. The festive spirit pervades the entire atmosphere, and although business may not be so good in the store and office, the people are being attracted to the city and of course business will follow.

Two extra trains came in yesterday from over the Seaboard Air Line and Wilmington and Newbern railroads, and the steamer Wilmington also brought up a crowd from Southport. The extra trains will bring in larger crowds to-day, and the Carnival is then expected to reach the zenith of its glory. The free attractions are good and a majority of the paid shows appear to be well worth the admission price charged. Yesterday the "small horse and man" show moved up from Front and Grace streets to Front and Market. Numerous other small side line attractions began to spring up all along the carnival district. The red lemonade men, the silver and gold wire workers, the negro behind the canvas, the cane racks, the balloon venders, the confetti dealers and the lunch counter men are all here and doing fairly good business.

Two stands where the "envelope men" gave "ten, twenty and thirty" were suspressed by Mayor Waddell and Chief Furlong early in the afternoon. It savored too much of gambling and the proprietors had to "shut up shop."

The "country store" during the three days of the carnival has enjoyed a patronage of nearly $400. Value received is given for every chance purchased as all the merchandise was donated and of course may be sold with great profit "regardless of cost or consequences." Mr. James H. Cowan is in charge assisted by Mr. John W. Bloome.

The Elks, the originators of the Fair, have thrown their handsome Temple on North Front street wide open to the public during the week. The parlors, drawing rooms and other departments of the building are handsomely decorated and visitors are received with the utmost cordiality.

The free shows in various sections of the Carnival district are heralded by music from Hollowbush's Cornet Band and all of them entertain and instruct. Notable among them for grace and prehensile agility is Mrs. Murphy, the monkey balloonist," who grasps the parachute, and seems the higher she goes the more to enjoy the rarity of the atmosphere, until at the dizzy altitude of 3,000 feet above the world, she cuts loose and descends in the same graceful manner in which she arose from Mother Earth.

Another feature that never fails to please is the "Hiway Family of Japanese Acrobats" in posturing acts, and Wu Ming, the daring, who does a stride for life on a 500-foot wire.

A remarkable sight, Mile Orocas, in aerial work, the famous high diver, "Speedy," diving 60 feet into a small tank of water, and "Grant," the electrical wonder, riding on a bicycle at great height on a live wire, with bike and wire illuminated.

To-day is Elks' Day.

To-day has been given over to members of B. P. O. E., as their own and the Wilmington Elks have determined to make the season set apart for them a "Red Letter Day" in the Carnival, giving the visitors an opportunity of viewing what will be interesting and amazing in originality and variety. In the forenoon of the day visiting Elks will be entertained by the local brotherhood "around about in spots," as the programme uniquely announces it. To-night at 9 o'clock members of the order will give a grotesque parade that will surpass anything yet seen during the week. One hundred and fifty fancy costumes have been received from Washington, D. C., and will be worn in the parade. They are grotesque and will furnish amusement for all who gather along the streets to witness it. The procession will be headed by a platoon of police and Hollowbush's Band. The 150 Elks in the city will follow, "no one known from another." All Elks are requested to meet at the Temple at 8 o'clock to-night to prepare for the pageant. The line of march will be down Front to Nun street; to Third; to Market, to Second and again to Front street and to the Temple.

The regular ghost parade of the Elks will be on Friday morning at 12:01 o'clock A. M. Messrs. "Jack" Bellamy and T. W. Davis, of the Amusement committee, are at work on the parade feature and all desired information may be gained by applying to either of them.

Elks are requested to meet at the Temple at 11:30 o'clock with all paraphernalia for the ghost parade. It will start promptly at 12:01 A. M. and the line of march will be to Dock street and return. The parade will be weird and well worth the seeing.

Edison's Moving Pictures.

The Edison Moving Pictures at corner of Front and Dock streets, is one of the best of its character ever seen in Wilmington. The very latest pictures of the famous Wizard are reproduced here.

During the visit of the late President to the Pan-American Exposition the Edison Company had operators at work taking pictures of his last life scenes. The first picture shows the President reviewing the troops during his visit and a most striking likeness is presented as he salutes the troops as they pass. The second picture shows the introduction of the President to the people by President Milburn, of the Exposition, and the delivery of his last speech to his countrymen. This picture is considered one of the best ever taken by the Edison Company. The last picture of this series shows the wonderful funeral cortege at Buffalo and is considered a masterpiece of the moving picture business, showing in perfect detail the entire procession as it passed from the house of President Milburn to the depot at Buffalo.

In addition to the above is given a beautiful colored presentation of the famous fairy tale of Cinderilla. Taken as a whole the entertainment is one that should not be missed.

Notes of the Carnival.

J. H. Rehder & Co. have one of the prettiest booths in the Carnival district. It is handsomely decorated, beautifully lighted at night, and located in front of the postoffice building north of the Ferris wheel. Friends of the big Department Store are requested to call at the booth and rest while traversing through the fair.

The best of order still prevails on the street, notwithstanding the large crowds. Extra policemen are on duty at all times and during the night there is a policeman on each block downtown.

All the shows close at 11 o'clock each night. A number of the stands conducted for individual profit remain open until midnight.

Kincaid, the electrician of the shows, who assaulted his treasurer Tuesday, was arraigned in Justice Fowler's court yesterday. He promised to leave the city and boarded the afternoon W., C. & A. train for Charleston.

Mr. F. C. Huffman, the fair promoter, whom the boys like to call "Mr. Bostock," left yesterday afternoon for Mobile, Ala., to organize a fair there. Mr. Huffman is a clever gentleman and made many friends here, who will be delighted to have him come this way again.

The Bostock aggregation will leave Sunday for Macon, Ga.; thence to Canton, Miss., and to Mobile, Ala.

The Daughters of the Confederacy are serving refreshments in the store on Market street, next to the store of Mr. N. F. Parker, the furniture man. They respectfully ask their friends to call. The proceeds go to the entertainment of the National Convention, U. D. C., in Wilmington next month.

PRETTY AFTERNOON WEDDING

Miss Abbey Ellis Chadbourn Became the Bride of Dr. Chas. P. Bolles in the First Presbyterian Church.

At 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the First Presbyterian church, this city, a pretty wedding ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells, when Dr. Charles P. Bolles, a prominent young business man of Wilmington, led to the altar Miss Abbey Ellis Chadbourn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Chadbourn, Jr., also of this city.

The church edifice was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns, wild smilax and other flowers and was thronged with friends and relatives of the popular young bride and groom.

The wedding marches were admirably rendered by Miss Anna Sprunt, the organist. The bridal party entered the church to a chorus from Lohengrin and leaving the altar a march by Mendelsohn was played. The order in which the attendants came was as follows:

Miss Bessie Bolles, sister of the groom.

Messrs. Joe Yates and George Chadburn, ushers.

Misses Chrissie Black and Olive Armstrong, bridesmaids.

Messrs. Aubrey Parsley and Clayton Giles, Jr., ushers.

Misses Susie Parsley and Blanche Chadbourn, bridesmaids.

Miss Frances King Chadbourn, maid of honor.

The bride leaning upon the arm of her father, Mr. James H. Chadbourn, Jr.

The groom entered with his brother and best man, Mr. Frederick Bolles, and all gathered around the beautifully decorated altar, where Dr. Wells softly spoke the words which joined the couple in holy wedlock.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of satin crepe, trimmed with white point lace and chiffon. She wore a veil of point applique, an heirloom in the Chadbourn family. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses and ferns.

The maid of honor was handsomely costumed in white silk, trimmed with lace, and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and ferns. The bridesmaids wore white organdie, trimmed with lace, and carried red carnations.

Many beautiful and costly wedding presents were received, attesting the popularity of the couple.

The bride and groom left last night on the north bound A. C. L. train on an extended tour, after which they will be at home in this city.

BY WILLIAM H. BERNARD

WILMINGTON, N. C.

THURSDAY MORNING, OCT. 17.

A KNOTTY QUESTION.

It is quite apparent that the trust question will be one of the leading questions during the next session of Congress. Nearly every man in public life recognizes the necessity of some sort of legislation to curb monopolistic combines and get them where they can be reached by law and held in restraint, but every one also recognizes the necessity of prudent legislation which will not interfere with the rights of capital or hinder its legitimate investment, or the effective co-operation of capitalists. Just where to draw the dividing line will be the perplexing question with even those who are honestly disposed to do something to abate the abuse of monopolies and protect the consumers from the exactions of unscrupulous combines. Just how to legislate to do that and at the same time avoid crippling legitimate enterprise.

There is even among those who profess to be opposed to "trusts" a difference of opinion as to what constitutes a trust, and this has been one of the obstacles in the way of restrictive legislation and of dealing with trusts, some contending that under the popular opinion as to trusts there are no such things, others that only such organizations as are formed for the purpose of controlling trade and destroying competition are trusts, while others, (among them Senator Hanna), deny that there are any trusts or that there have been any since the passage of the Sherman anti-trust law in 1890.

When the late President McKinley made recommendations in favor of legislation to curb and regulate trusts they were so phrased as to practically exempt every trust in the country, for not one of them would admit that it was organized in "restraint of trade" and nothing could be found in its plan of organization or agreements with companies with which it combined to prove it, although the very fact of the combination and the methods subsequently pursued were presumptive evidence of that, consequently there isn't a trust in the country to-day that isn't doing business openly, boldly and in defiance of public sentiment or of any laws that may exist, while some of them hold absolute monopolies, and make their own selling and buying prices, in neither of which they show any scruples of conscience or any regard for public opinion.

That they have monopolies and extort unreasonable profits from the American people is shown conclusively by the enormous profits they make, and the annual dividends they declare, and that most of these unreasonable profits come out of the American people who are forced to trade with them because a practically prohibitive tariff prevents foreign competition, is proven by the fact that some of these trusts, like the Steel Trust, for instance, which have a large foreign trade, sell their goods in other countries at from 25 to 30 per cent. less than they are sold in the home market. If they can do that and make a satisfactory profit on the goods they export why should they charge the home customers such high prices compared with the prices they ask of foreign customers, when their reports of business done show such enormous profits? If it be true, as asserted by their apologists or defenders, that the protective tariff enables them to sell their goods abroad as cheaply as they do, why should the American people be so outrageously taxed to enable them to ship goods to other countries, when the excessive taxation on American consumers amounts to more on the aggregate than all the profits in this foreign trade? They are simply making the American consumers bear the burden to enable them, according to their own spokesmen, to make a small profit on what they ship abroad.

There will be a good deal of this kind of talk when the movement is made to reduce the tariff on articles which are shipped abroad and sold for a less price than demanded for the same articles sold at home, but when they admit the fact that there is a difference in the prices, and that the foreign price is high enough to justify extending that trade and clamoring for more markets, they admit that that they can make a reasonable profit on these prices and discredit themselves when they insist upon a continuance of the protection which enables them to play such an unreasonable and one-sided game with the American people who have permitted themselves to be taxed for three decades to foster our "infant industries" and put them on their feet, an exhibition of generosity of which the protected industries as represented by the trusts show no appreciation.

If they want to begin with the trust question right they will begin with the tariff.

Lawson, the Boston Copper King, lost $7,000,000 by the late slump in copper stocks. But he has several millions left.

COLONIES IN THE SOUTH.

We read from time to time of schemes to establish colonies of foreigners in the South, but while some have been established and seem to be prospering, there has not been much progress made on this line. Some time ago we saw mention of the purchase of a large tract of land in South Carolina by the Southern Railway company, with a view to colonization and a few days ago some of the Mobile papers announced the purchase of a large tract in Alabama, with a view to colonizing with Germans. In commenting on this subject the Savannah News says:

"Immigrants don't care to seek homes where a large section of the population is composed of negroes. They seem to think that if they are poor, and have to work in the fields, their social position there will be little, if any, better than that of the negroes. Of course they are mistaken about this. In every Southern State now a very large part of the work on the farms is performed by white people. It has been said, and doubtless truthfully, that more than half the cotton crop is made by white labor. It is certain that in Texas the number of negro laborers in some of the countries is comparatively small.

"Among the best immigrants coming to this country now are those from Denmark, Norway, Sweden and the German empire. As a rule they seek homes in the country. They are thrifty, and it does not take a family of them long to open a productive farm on a prairie or in the forest. They would take our pine lands and make fine farms out of them. Nothing could happen to Georgia that would contribute more to her growth and prosperity than for 50,000 or 100,000 of these people to settle within her limits during the next two or three years.

There may be other obstacles to colonizing on a large scale, but the principal one is the presence of the negroes in such large numbers. Foreigners as a general thing don't know much about the negroes, and have some queer ideas about them, one of the notions being that they are savages, which they have been told by the agents of Western railroad companies who were seeking immigrants to put upon the vacant railroad lands in the Western States and territories. This notion may not be as prevalent now as it was some years ago, but a good many foreigners of the poorly informed class doubtless still believe it, and therefore these people will not come in small numbers when they might be compelled to mix with the negroes. The only kind of colonies which will succeed are those which will be numerous enough to be self-dependent and to afford the colonists the kind of society and association they desire and have been accustomed to.

The railroads could do much towards encouraging that kind of colonies, and by encouraging them contribute to their success and in the encouragement of more good tracts of land should be provided for them in desirable sections, with good transportation facilities and opportunity to reach markets, and then well informed agents should be sent to the countries from which the colonists are sought, and they should be brought direct to southern ports and thus avoid the alert and seductive agents of western railroad and land companies, who offer persuasive inducements to settlers.

TO KEEP ANARCHISTS OUT.

The Industrial Commission, which has been in session in Washington for some time, in addition to other matters, gave some attention to the immigration laws, and will offer some suggestions to Congress to remedy existing defects, especially to making the laws more effective in excluding anarchists and other dangerous characters. As bearing upon this the Washington correspondent of the New York Herald writes as follows:

"The commission will urge the establishment of a system of inspection of all immigrants at the ports of embarkation in Europe, with a view to detecting persons of anarchistic tendencies, who intend to sail for the United States where they may have more freedom in advancing their propaganda of assassination. This system, it is proposed, shall be operated in conjunction with the governments of Europe.

"Two other methods of preventing the arrival of anarchists from abroad will be suggested. The first is to apply to cabin passengers the same rigorous rules of inspection to which steerage immigrants must submit on arrival of the point of debarkation in the United States. The second is to extend the period of possible deportation from one year to two or more years. Under the present law any alien, who has resided in this country twelve months, is exempt from deportation. These propositions are calculated to affect other undesirable foreigners than anarchists. There is little sentiment in the commission in favor of the educational test for the average immigrant.

Another recommendation is that Congress re-enact the Chinese Exclusion law. The Geary act will soon expire by limitation and the members of the commission have given heed to the urgent requests of labor organizations that the bars against Oriental immigration shall not be lowered.

This is beginning at the right end. There was a time when we could afford to look upon the question of immigration with some indifference, but now since there is such a large proportion of the undesirable element in the tide that comes, and so much of the actual or prospective law-defying or criminal element, we must in self defence exercise a closer supervision with a view to keeping these elements out. There is no reason why the hospitality of this country should be abused and it be made the dumping ground for the worthless and criminal classes of other countries. None of these want to see their good people emigrate, but they are all perfectly willing to see the worthless, disreputable or dangerous go, and even sometimes aid them in getting away.

The first paragraph in this extract is in line with a suggestion we made some time ago in discussing this subject. There should be an inspection of All emigrants in the countries they emigrate from and not one should be permitted to land in this country who does not bring an official certificate of character. This should be an imperative condition, and the ship that brings an emigrant without such a certificate should be required to take him or her back. That would force the emigrant and other vessels to exercise more caution as to those they take on board for delivery on our shores.

A Missouri bee man who got tired having his bees remain idle so much of the time struck on the plan of boxing them up, taking them South, turning them loose, and when they had made a crop of honey boxing them up, taking them back to Missouri, turning them loose and putting them to making another crop. Thus he keeps them busy most of the year and the little fellows have never discovered the trick.

As an illustration of the Navy Department's treatment of Schley and its biass against him the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says when Judge Advocate Lemly wants any work done he is furnished with a dozen copyists or more while Schley has to furnish his own copyists and foot the bill himself. His expenses, according to this correspondent, including his lawyers, fees, will not be less than $20,000.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— There is a disturbing rumor from Austin respecting some of the Texas oil wells. It is said that several of the Beaumont gushers have stopped gushing, and that arrangements are being made to put pumps into them. Whether the failure of the supply is the question that is agitating some of those who still have stocks for sale.—Savannah News, Dem.

—— There is a surplus of revenue; there is a demand for tariff reduction; there is the usual opposition to tariff reduction by the thick-and-thin protectionists. Seeing this condition of affairs, the brewers step forward with the suggestion that what the country really needs is the pleasuring of the brewers by a still further reduction of the tax on beer. And the chances are that the thick-and-thin protectionists will agree with the brewers.—Louisville Courier-Journal, Dem.

—— "The practical need for the ship subsidy bill, which Mr. Hanna is engaged in framing, does not seem to be very great when we consider the fact that one yard in Philadelphia has just completed a great warship for the Russian government and is about to launch two very large merchant vessels for the Red Star Line," says the Philadelphia Times. "These boats, which are to bear the names Finland and Kroonland, and are to fly the American flag, when completed will register 12,000 tons. They are to be handsome ocean carriers, and are being built here, it is to be presumed, at a price not far above what the company would have had to pay in Great Britain, where orders for two sister ships were placed at the same time. There is every appearance of present prosperity in the American shipbuilding industry, and the appeal for government aid is rather inexplicable to to the American people."—New Orleans Times-Democrat, Dem.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Fayetteville New Era: New cotton receipts in Fayetteville this season have been comparatively light. Only about 2500 bales have been received up to date.

— Kinston Free Press: About 100,000 pounds of tobacco was sold on the Kinston market to-day. The prices on all grades were higher than at any time this season. Mr. Jno. W. Warters sold the tobacco raised on one acre of land for over $300. He sold one barn for a net check of $269. There is more competition for tobacco on the Kinston market than any in the State, consequently higher prices are paid.

— Tarboro Southerner: The ten-year-old son of E. E. Wollett, who lives four miles from Littleton, was killed in a peculiar manner several days ago. Mr. Wollett runs a gin, and had a large quantity of cotton seed, holes being dug every few feet in the pile to keep the seed from heating. His little son, while playing in the seed, fell into one of these holes, about four deep, going down head foremost. The seed closed in on him and he smothered to death before he could be found.

— Oxford Ledger: Ex-Judge A. W. Graham and Mr. R. W. Lassiter, the great mining men of Oxford, have completed a ten-year lease of the noted copper mining properties in northern Granville and Person counties, including the Blue Wing and Gillis mines and three smaller properties—in all 1,300 acres, to John T. Williams, of New York, who has taken charge and will quadruple the force of employes. Ore will be shipped to smelters of New York and Norfolk. A spur track from the Atlantic & Danville railroad extends to the Blue Wing mine, thence to the Holloway mine. Arrangements have been completed for building an other railroad nine miles from Virginina to the High Hill mine, which the Virginia Copper Company, limited, incorporated in London, has purchased and will operate.

— Gastonia Gazette: A negro named Will Johnson, known as "Lightweight" was shot through one lung last Friday night on Ried row by another negro. They quarrelled over a bottle of whiskey. The shooter escaped. The wounded man is still living but in a serious condition.—Coroner W. Meek Adams performed his first official duty Tuesday. It was an inquest over the nine-days-old infant of a negro woman named Ada Borders at Kings Mountain. The jury verdict was that the child had come to death at the hands of its mother. The evidence showed that the mother had slapped the child on the head for crying in the night. Dr. Quickle found clotted blood on the brain. Dr. Jenkins, county physician, declared the woman too sick to be moved, and she is kept under guard.

— Fayetteville Observer: Dr. E. Floyd has shown the reporter a little box, sent to him by Mr. J. C. Hamer, a prominent farmer of Marlboro, S. C., containing cotton cotton bolls showing the havoc wrought by the boll worm, one of the great enemies of the cotton crop, the ravages of which for the past two or three months have been terrible. The specimens show all the stages of the attack—some green, with part of the fibre untouched, and others riddled and eaten up. Mr. Hamer states that from a tract of land which last year produced 2,000 pounds of cotton, there will be gathered this year not more than 250 pounds—or just one-eighth of last year's crop. A remarkable fact to which Mr. Hamer calls attention is that the bollworm is pursued by a "sharp shooter," which seems to demand a part of the spoil in the work of destruction. It is seen in the Marlboro section for the first time.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The cotton market opened steady with futures four points higher, but under room liquidation, light foreign selling and scarcity of public buying orders, all due to disappointing Liverpool cables and heavier port receipts than expected, a decline set in. Rumors of higher Southern spot markets on heavy exports and increased domestic demand, with claims that the late cold weather did serious harm to late cotton, helped to stiffen the market toward the close of the first hour, and a busy wave of buying carried October to 8.17, January to 8.20 and May to 8.09. Liverpool hardened decidedly on the frost news and sent buying orders to our pit. Estimates for large New Orleans and Houston receipts, with active selling by Philadelphia export interests against holdings of spot cotton South undermined bull confidence and set prices steadily downward. The hedges put out reached thirty thousand bales or more, mostly March and May operators, though some of the selling was in January. Late in the day Wall street and the South sold out early purchases. At the close the market was steady, with prices three points lower to one point higher, or about unchanged from the opening.

THE DAY'S BEST HOUR.

Sweet is the morn that deepens to a blush,
Athwart each clear cut ridge and mountain high,
When on the dewy twigs the birds all vie
In tuneful measures with the glorious thrush!
And deeply sweet is noon, when every rush
And nodding blade of grass seems full asleep,
When scarce a whisper through the woods doth creep
While distant scenes look hazy in the hush.

But poet's hour loved Eve, whose shadow folds
In peace the deeper grasses by the mere,
Whose crimson flame gives glory to the near
And dappies every height the eye beholds,
With fervent glory fringing cape and bay,
Thou art the sweetest, loneliest hour of day!
—William J. Gallagher in Chambers' Journal.

PUZZLES OF A GREAT RIVER.

Insignificant Causes Which Change the Mississippi's Current.

"I have been much impressed with the importance of small things in late years," said an old steamboat man, "and the Mississippi river has furnished me some rather good examples. I can understand now why Cæsar looked out upon the Nile in such curious amazement and offered all that he stood for to the Egyptian priest if he would show him the source of that wonderful river. But the antics of the Nile look like insignificant nothings to me when compared with the strange conduct of the stream that oozes out of the earth at Itasca and hurries on its murky way toward the gulf of Mexico.

"Towns along the Mississippi that once stood right on the brink of the river have been isolated even in my day, and there are, too, all along the course of the stream little empires in view where the river has encroached upon small centers of population, finally eating the earth away and forcing the inhabitants to seek other quarters. There are hundreds of those places that are almost forgotten now even by the men who are constantly on the river. What brings about these violent changes along the banks of the river? Not floods. It is just the ordinary doings of the stream.

"In the first place, the current of the Mississippi is wonderfully swift, and the sediment deposited at any point where resistance to the flow is offered is great. Tie a string to the neck of a bottle and sink it, with the mouth of the bottle up and open. If held in one place where the flow is normal, in an extremely short period of time the bottle will fill with sediment. Stretch a net across the river, a net so finely woven that nothing but the pure water of the river can pass through, and on account of the rapidity of the flow and the greatness of the deposit of sediment almost in a twinkling the river would be dammed at that point. Experts have admitted this. This brings me to the point of my narrative. The flow of currents is frequently interfered with by sunken boats, perhaps by a jackstaff sticking up above the surface. The current is diverted by degrees, generally touching the far side of the stream a mile from the point, where it again meets resistance and immediately begins the building of a sand bar.

"I have seen a thousand examples of this sort during my career on the river, and I have known of instances where the root of a tree or the mere twig of a willow has brought about similar conditions. These things have tended to make a riddle out of the river, yet the stream after awhile will be handled so as to undo all that it has accomplished in this way."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

MILITARY EMBROIDERY.

One Who Can Do It Well Need Never Look For Employment.

Embroidering shoulder knots, cap devices, sleeve and belt symbols for the officers of every departmental and military organization in the land has to be wrought in gold and silver on the heavy broadcloth. And women do this work. Even expert men needleworkers never attempt it, for it requires a deftness and delicacy of touch peculiarly feminine, although it bears no slightest likeness to the embroidery done on plaint fabrics.

"We seek out good military embroiderers, they don't have to hunt for us," said a prominent outfitter. "See this number '5' on this shoulder knot. The officer is in the Fifth artillery and is getting a new uniform. Not many workers could execute gold embroidery as smoothly as this. It requires years of practice and understanding to handle such material. The experts make good incomes and have things their own way. They stay at home and take orders. We are glad to give them all the time and material they wish to effect such results. Now, I'll show you what we call stock work—the eagles and emblems on some ordinary steamship companies' uniforms. The lines are scraggly and inferior compared with the experts' work. Yet a woman able to direct a workroom of girls doing this grade of insignia in our factory gets $30 a week. Military embroidery is done with the finest of gilt or silver tubing on heavy stuff much stiffened."

"I have in my head now the insignia of every military, naval and departmental device used in the United States," said a skilled embroiderer. "I must keep up with such matters in order to be able to fit each device to the rank it belongs to without instruction. The cavalry, the artillery, the infantry, the engineer corps, the staff of physicians, surgeons, commissaries—all have different badges and belongings. My books would show all the various changes in insignia that have occurred in governmental matters for the last 40 years. I learned the work from a regular French decoupeur and started in as a girl just when the civil war created a demand for such service. To learn military embroidery is a likely profession for any young girl. Two of my best assistants began with me as errand girls when barely 14 years old. It is not work that affords remuneration from the start. Persistent apprenticeship is required before rewards begin. But once mistress of the craft, one has good paying, interesting work for a lifetime."—Washington Star.

A Candid Horse Ad.

A gentleman who has a Christian spirit and a horse for sale advertises as follows in a Minnesota paper:

We have a good family driving horse for sale, providing you carry insurance.

He is not overparticular as to feed. In fact, he prefers our neighbors' haystacks and cornercribs to our own.

We feed him whenever we can catch him, which is seldom.

He is partly gentle. The other parts are not, and you must govern yourself accordingly.

We will throw in the derrick and telegraph pole combination which we use to hitch him up with.

If you are fond of driving, we would advise you to engage a cowboy that owns a fast horse to do your driving, and be sure and get on top of the barn before he begins to drive the horse.

For price and coroner's address apply to the owner.—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Counterchock Quarrelsome.

When the famous John Radcliffe, whose library is so well known an institution at Oxford, lived in Bow street, his garden adjoined that of Sir Godfrey Kneller. "Being intimate friends," as Jesse tells us, "they agreed that a doorway should be broken through the wall to admit of their enjoying a free intercourse with each other. Some misunderstanding, however, having arisen between them, Kneller sent a message to Radcliffe that he intended to close up the door. Radcliffe, it is said, asked the messenger to tell Kneller that he might do anything with the door except paint it, while the painter returned the obvious message, 'Tell Dr. Radcliffe, with my compliments, that I will take anything from him but his physic.'"—London Post.

Papered With Bonds.

Wall paper having an apparent value of $400,000, but in reality worth nothing, decorates the study of a New York business man. It is composed of thousands of 6 per cent bonds, engraved and printed at a cost of $2,500 for a company which, failing to attract investors, died before it could be floated.—Chicago Chronicle.

For Asthma use CHENEY'S EXPECTORANT.

SICK CALLS.

Only call at the door unless you are sure your friend is able to see you without harm.

Enter and leave the house and move about the room quietly.

Carry a cheerful face. Speak cheerful, pleasant words.

In order to cheer you need tell no lies.

If your friend is very ill, do not fall into gay or careless talk in the attempt to be cheerful.

Don't ask questions, thus obliging your friend to talk.

Talk about something outside and not about the disease and the circumstances of the patient.

If possible, take something with you to please the eye and relieve the monotony of the sickroom—a flower or even a picture which you can loan for a few days.

If desirable, some little delicacy to tempt the appetite will be well bestowed.

Stay only a moment, or a few minutes at the longest, unless you can be of some help.—Weekly Bouquet.

Wouldn't Be Hoodooed.

Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans was once in the lighthouse service. In "A Sailor's Log," published by the Appletons, he tells of one of his experiences, as follows: "I found most of the lighthouse keepers in Virginia waters were colored men. Many of them had to be removed, generally because they would go to sleep and neglect their lights. One of them I had to remove for a very curious offense, or rather he removed himself when he found I was going to do it.

"I visited the station where he was on watch and was inspecting when I noticed that he followed me about, spitting frequently when he thought I was not observing him. I learned from the principal keeper, a colored Methodist minister, that the fellow was chewing herbs and spitting around me as a hoodoo to prevent me from reporting the various irregularities I discovered. When he found that I had reported them all and asked for his removal as well, he jumped overboard and was not seen again."

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for six years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. Geo. D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleepness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle working medicine is a godsend to weak, sick, run down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by R. R. BELLAMY, Druggist. †

THE LATEST AS TO NERVES AND STRENGTH

It is not muscle so much as the nerves back of muscle which show one's strength and power of endurance. And the study with able physicians of to-day is how to keep the nerves in perfect health and fitted for the strain of everyday living. Headache of every type, nerve weakness, dyspepsia, sleeplessness, languor, restlessness, nervous dyspepsia, muscular weakness, brain weariness, poor circulation,—a thousand different unpleasant feelings and symptoms are due to nerve waste and nerve weakness,—especially in women and children. But how can all this be prevented, one will ask? How can my broken-down constitution be repaired, and nerve strength and full, robust health be secured. Just two points to remember: Determine that you will grow strong in nerves and health, and decide to use at once that most famous nerve cure, COCKLIN. It is delicious in taste, quick in action and makes the wearied nerves tingle with renewed strength, and every function the stronger and faculty the brighter by its use. Druggists sell it.

THURSDAY MORNING, OCT. 17.

TRIAL OF CALEB POWERS.

Sensational Testimony—Threats Made against the Life of Judge Cantrill. Guarded by His Friends.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

GEORGETOWN, KY., Oct. 16.—The friends of Judge Cantrill, before whom the second trial of Caleb Powers on the charge of complicity in the Goebel assassination is proceeding, are guarding him closely, as it is reported that threats have been made against his life. A large number of witnesses were examined to-day, the most sensational testimony being given by Ike Hopkins of Bell county, a new witness for the commonwealth, who swore that he asked Wharton Golden on the day prior to the shooting of Goebel when he could go home from Frankfort. "You wait," said Golden, "Goebel will be killed to day." He also said he heard Henry Youtsey say: "Goebel is going to be killed and this man, (pointing to Dick Coombs) will do the work. I have given him $100 and twenty-five others have given him the same amount."

On cross-examination Hopkins said he made his statement about what he knew to Arthur Goebel in Covington, Ky., last May. He admitted that he had been arrested for murder, malicious shooting and swindling the government. He is now a deputy sheriff.

NAVY APPROPRIATIONS.

Estimates for the Approaching Fiscal Year Amount to $98,910,984.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The estimates for the navy for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1903, were made public at the Navy Department to-day. The total amount is $98,910,984, against $77,924,535 appropriated for the current year.

Secretary Long, in speaking of the estimates, said that they were made with a due regard for the needs of the navy, and intimated that they had the approval of the administration. He spoke of the increased cost of the navy and said that the building of a battleship costing $5,000,000 was not the end of its expense, as its maintenance was very costly. Those estimates, he said, did not cover any recommendation for increase of the navy over that already authorized, but it is more than likely the secretary will recommend three new battleships and two armored cruisers, and a number of small gunboats.

NICARAGUA CANAL.

New Treaty on the Subject to Be Submitted to the Senate.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Senator Morgan, of Alabama, who was one of President Roosevelt's callers, talked with the President about the prospects of the Nicaragua canal bill at the coming session of Congress. The President told Senator Morgan that he would submit to the Senate a new treaty on the subject which more nearly met his views than the first Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

Representatives Dayton, of West Virginia, and Myer of Louisiana, who are members of the naval affairs committee of the House had a talk with the President to-day about the work of Congress with respect to the navy. The President was vigorous in his expressions of a desire to see a strong navy built up.

MUTUAL FIDELITY COMPANY.

Receiver Appointed Upon Application of Some of the Investors.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ATLANTA, GA., Oct. 16.—A special to the Journal, from Columbus, Ga., says: Investors in this city yesterday had a receiver appointed for the Mutual Fidelity Company, of Norfolk, Va. The company was chartered under the laws of Delaware, with the offices at Norfolk. The concern, it is said, sold diamond investment contracts on the plan of debenture or investment companies. There are many investors in this city, and they, on yesterday, sent their attorney to Norfolk to ask for a receiver. Thousands of dollars were sent from Columbus and vicinity every month. Birmingham and other Southern cities, it is said, are interested.

BANKERS' ASSOCIATION.

MILWAUKEE, WIS., Oct. 15.—The second day's session of the American Bankers' Association was devoted to business from the start. Upon the call of States, bankers from various sections of the country reported in five minute speeches the general condition of business. The general trend of their statements showed that business was in a thoroughly satisfactory condition.

Following the call of States came a discussion on practical banking questions.

SCHLEY WAS COOL AND COURAGEOUS.

Testimony of Witnesses at Yesterday's Session of Naval Court of Inquiry.

OFFICERS OF HIS FLAGSHIP.

Commander Mason and Lieutenants McCauley and Webster All Gave Accounts of the Engagement of July 3rd—Two Recalls.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The officers of Admiral Schley's flagship, the Brooklyn, occupied the attention of the Schley court of inquiry for the entire day. The proceedings began with the recall of Captain Cook and Lieutenant Commander Sears, both of whom made material additions to their former testimony, and they were followed in succession by Commander Mason, who was the executive officer of the Brooklyn, Lieutenant Edward McCauley, Jr., who was signal officer, and Lieutenant Charles Webster, who had charge of the forward gun deck battery of the Brooklyn during the battle of Santiago and was a watch officer on board that ship.

Captain Cook's testimony related to the uncoupling of the Brooklyn's engines and to the voyage of the flying squadron from Cienfuegos to Santiago, explaining in some details the cause of the slow progress on that occasion.

Commander Sears spoke again of the conversation reported as having taken place between himself and officers of the Massachusetts in the ward room of the vessel on May 31st, in which he was alleged to have said that it had been difficult to get Commodore Schley up to the point of undertaking the bombardment of the Colon, and he again denied that he had said anything reflecting upon his superior officer.

Commander Mason and Lieutenants McCauley and Webster all gave accounts of the engagement of July 3d. Mr. McCauley recited in detail the signal made in connection with that historical event at the instance of Commodore Schley. When asked if Commodore Schley had done anything during the battle for the encouragement of the men this witness replied that he several times had said: "Give 'em hell, bullies!"

All these witnesses testified that the conduct of the Commodore when under fire was cool and courageous.

Commander Mason was called as the first witness of the day. Detailing the siege of Cienfuegos, he said that on the first day of their arrival the vessels were kept in column and about sundown steamed in slowly to within two or three thousand yards of the entrance and then sheered out. After that the blockade was between three and seven miles.

Referring to the blockade of Santiago, the witness stated that the vessels were in column, steaming slowly perpendicular to the north and south line of the harbor at a distance of from four to six miles.

Mr. Rayner asked the witness how many times he had seen Commodore Schley under fire, to which he replied, "during all the engagements."

"What was his general conduct, manner and hearing on these occasions?" Mr. Rayner asked.

"Excellent in every particular. He was calm, collected and brave."

Asked to give a brief account of the battle of July 3rd, Commander Mason, after giving the preliminaries said:

"When I saw the leading ship of the enemy coming out I gave the order, 'clear ship for action.' What was done to the engines I do not know, although my impression is they were started at once. As soon as I reported the battery to Captain Cook in the conning tower, I asked him if we should commence firing. He replied, 'Fire, as soon as you are ready.' I immediately gave the order to Lieutenant Simpson, the senior officer of the forward turret to fire as soon as he could, giving him a range of 3,500 yards. I think the first gun was fired within five minutes, or very close to five minutes after the first alarm. The rest of the battery took up the fire at once and continued to fire on the port bow until the ranges commenced to get down to eighteen hundred and sixteen hundred yards. I asked Captain Cook as to which way he was going round, it being necessary for me to know on account of changing the battery below, shifting from one side to the other. He answered that he was going to port helm. I gave the necessary orders on deck and went below.

"As I arrived in the after cabin the after five inch gun was fired for the last time on the port side and the starboard gun took up the fire immediately. The starboard battery then was engaged for the rest of the action. The range at the time we turned as far as I remember was about fourteen hundred yards, although I have a recollection of eleven hundred yards being sent to me once. After swinging around the range went from 2,400 2,800 and 3,000 yards."

Commander Mason told of the surrender of the Colon and the movement of the Brooklyn to intercept a supposed Spanish warship, which turned out to be the Austrian cruiser Maria Teresa, and then the court asked a number of questions.

In reply to these questions Commander Mason said that beyond sending men aloft and having men go ashore no effort had been made by the flying squadron to determine whether the Spaniards were in the harbor at Cienfuegos; that he knew of no American ships being between the Brooklyn and the Spanish ships when the Brooklyn was turning to starboard July 3rd, that when the Spanish fleet came out of the harbor the Brooklyn was near her regular blockading position which was 6,000 yards from the Morro; that on the voyage from Cienfuegos to Santiago the fleet had been delayed by the smaller vessels, especially the Eagle, and that but for these vessels better speed could have been made, that he had observed the bombardment of the Colon from the foretop of the Brooklyn as she lay coaling several miles away and had noted that some of the shots from the American ships fell short, while one at least of the shots by the Spaniards fell outside the American vessels; that he had concluded from this engagement that the guns in the Spanish shore batteries were of calibre not to exceed six or eight inches.

The first witness at the afternoon session was Lieutenant Edward McCauley, Jr., who, as an ensign on the Brooklyn during the Cuban campaign, served as Commodore Schley's signal officer.

The witness read a list of the signals to and from the Brooklyn on July 3rd, the list being as follows:

"July 3rd, 1898, 9 A. M., flagship to fleet: Disregard motions of the commander-in-chief."

9:15 A. M., Brooklyn to Texas, "What is your theory about burning block houses on the hill last night?"

9:35 A. M., Iowa to Brooklyn, "Enemy is escaping."

9:35 A. M., Brooklyn to fleet, "Enemy is escaping."

9:36 A. M., Brooklyn to fleet, "Clear for action."

9:45 A. M., Brooklyn to fleet, "Close up."

11:35 A. M., Brooklyn to the Oregon, "Well done."

12:30 P. M., Oregon to Brooklyn, "Flag of a strange vessel seen is Italian."

12:35 P. M., Brooklyn to Oregon, "She was built in Italy."

"While chasing the Colon the Oregon fired a number of shots. We wigwagged her when each one struck, and a number of unimportant messages were exchanged."

"Give us these unimportant messages as well as you can recollect."

"When the Oregon came up on our quarter, we wigwagged to her, 'God bless the Oregon.' Later on during the chase of the Colon we wigwagged to the Oregon to try her 13-inch guns, or something to that effect."

"Was that the signal that has been spoken of as 'try one of your railroad trains!'"

"I have heard it spoken of outside of the court, but I do not remember."

"Have you given all the signals on the day of the battle?"

"No sir, (reading) 1:15 P. M. This is not a signal, just a note of when the Colon surrendered: Colon fired her lee gun and hauled down her flag."

"1:25 P. M., Brooklyn to Oregon, 'Enemy has surrendered.'

"1:26 P. M., Brooklyn to Oregon, 'Cease firing.'

"1:26 P. M., Brooklyn to Oregon, 'Keep your guns loaded and trained on the enemy.'"

"1:30 P. M., Brooklyn to Oregon, 'Congratulations on the grand victory. Thanks for splendid assistance.'

"1:35 P. M., Oregon to Brooklyn, 'Thank you more than words can express.'

"1:45 P. M., Brooklyn to flagship New York, 'We have gained a great victory. Details will be communicated.'

"1:50 P. M., New York to Brooklyn, 'Report your casualties.'

"1:55 P. M., Brooklyn to New York, 'Killed, one.'

"1:55 P. M., Brooklyn to New York, 'This is a great day for our country.'

"2:30 P. M., New York to Brooklyn, 'Ascertain as far as possible position and strength of the enemy's forces and report without delay.'

2:30 P. M., New York to Brooklyn, "Hoist out all boats."

2:40 P. M., New York to Brooklyn, "Do you want services of chaplain to bury dead?"

2:45 P. M., Brooklyn to New York, "Would like to have services of chaplain. Will signal time later."

2:50 P. M., New York to Brooklyn, "Send for chaplain when you want him."

3:30 P. M., New York to Brooklyn, "Send both steam cutters and strongest tow line."

3:45 P. M., Brooklyn to New York, "Both steam cutters entirely disabled by shot. Will use such pulling boats as we can. Will send tow line."

4:20 P. M., Brooklyn to Oregon, "Follow flag."

4:25 P. M., Brooklyn to Oregon, "Close up."

4:25 P. M., New York to Brooklyn, "Will remain in charge of prize."

"Do you remember any incidents connected with the signal from the Brooklyn to the Oregon at 4:20 P. M., 'follow flag,' and at 4:25 from the Brooklyn to the Oregon, 'close up.'

"There was a report that there were one or two Spanish ships to the eastward, and I understood that the Brooklyn and Oregon were to go after those ships. We started off and signalled the Oregon to follow us. She did not get under way immediately, as I remember it, so we signalled to her to 'close up.'"

Lieutenant McCauley gave a list of the signals made from the Massachusetts while that vessel was being used as Commodore Schley's flagship, May 31st, and when asked whether any signal had been sent to the fleet to "not go in any closer," replied, "No, sir."

He said he had charge of the signals and did not remember such a signal.

Leading up to the battle of July 3rd, Mr. Rayner asked: "What was the conduct and bearing of Commodore Schley on the day of the battle?"

"Perfectly cool and steady."

"Where was the commodore? What was his position when you saw him?"

"On the platform outside the conning tower."

"Did he make encouraging remarks on that day to the officers of the ship that you heard?"

"He said "Give them hell, bullies.'"

"Did he say that more than once?"

"Yes, sir, several times."

"Can you give us any incident to show that he was not laboring under great mental excitement on that day?"

"When Ellis was killed an officer and myself picked up his body and started to throw it overboard. The Commodore saw us and said: 'Don't throw him overboard. Cover him up with something.'"

"Were you present when Ellis was killed?"

"Yes, sir."

"How near was Ellis to the commodore when he was killed and to you?"

"He was standing right next to me. He was about fifteen feet from the commodore I should think.'

Lieutenant McCauley described the incidents of the battle on July 3d, saying that he had "on his own hook" hoisted the signal, "clear ship for action," and that when he had reported that action to the commodore, the latter had told him to hoist "close up."

Referring to the bombardment of the Colon May 31st, the witness said that Commodore Schley's bearing on that occasion had not been different from what it had been on other occasions.

Mr. Hanna called attention to an entry in the signal books of the Brooklyn and the St. Paul of a message for Admiral Sampson. It appeared that as received by the St. Paul the signal was as follows: "If Sampson comes here, tell him that half of the squadron is out of coal and the engine of the collier is broken down."

Upon the reading of this signal Lieutenant McCauley said that it ran, "if Sampson comes here tell him half of the squadron is short of coal."

He said, however, that the word "short" was very indistinct. The signal to 'close up' had, the witness said, remained flying until we discovered the Oregon on our quarter. Several of the ships had their answering pennants flying; he remembered especially that the Oregon had, but could not recall the ships which made the response.

Lieutenant McCauley was then excused and Lieutenant Charles Webster was called.

Asked if he had seen any suspicious movements on shore at Santiago during the evening of July 2nd, the witness replied: "I remember being on deck on July 2nd and seeing columns of smoke rising and apparently moving, as though vessels were steaming in the harbor. Also, in my watch I remember the burning of blockhouses to the westward of Santiago, which I reported to the commanding officer."

"What was the conduct of Commodore Schley in the different engagements and on July 3rd?"

"I never saw Commodore Schley during the engagement. I saw him immediately after the battle of July 3rd, and he was perfectly cool and collected."

The court asked a few questions as to the blockade of Cienfuegos and the relative positions of vessels in the Santiago battle, bringing out little that was new.

The court then adjourned.

TO CHANGE NAME OF THE CHURCH.

An Animated Debate on the Proposition in the House of Deputies.

OF EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

Reference of the Subject to a Joint Committee Agreed Upon—No Further Action Will Be Taken Until the Meeting in 1904.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct 15.—Considerable routine business was transacted at to-day's session of the triennial Episcopal convention. A new missionary bishop was elected and in the House of Deputies there was an animated debate on the proposition to change the name of the church. This question did not come up as a direct issue, but on a motion to concur with the House of Bishops in creating a joint commission, to which the subject should be referred.

There was much division of sentiment in regard to the matter. A proposal to refuse to consider the question in any form was strongly supported, but this it was argued, would fail to show proper respect to the House of Bishops. Finally, the reference of the subject to a joint committee was agreed upon. No further action will be taken until the meeting of the general convention in 1904.

The House of Deputies unanimously elected Dr. Cameron Mann, of Kansas City, to be missionary bishop of North Dakota.

The Huntington amendment to Article 20, of the constitution, which was adopted yesterday by the House of Deputies was non-concurred in by the bishops.

The rooms of the Woman's Auxiliary were closed this evening, in respect to the memory of honorary secretary, Mrs Mary A. E. Twing, of New York, whose funeral was held from St. Luke's church.

There was a reception at the Japanese mission this afternoon, and tonight Bishop Rowe, of Alaska, addressed a missionary meeting at the Cathedral church of the Good Samaritan.

The House of Deputies elected its members of the board of managers of the General Missionary Society. The only notable change in the personnel of the board was the election of Rev. Dr. Fiske, of Rhode Island, in place of Rev. G. M. Christian, of New York.

The canon for deaconnesses was adopted. The canon makes thirty years the least age at which a woman may be received as a deaconness, and this has already been adopted by the House of Bishops.

A motion was made to concur with the House of Bishops in creating a joint committee of fifteen to take into consideration the entire subject of a change of name. The motion was adopted by the following vote: Clerical—Aye, 39; nay, 13; divided, 6. Lay—Aye, 30; nay, 17; divided, 4. This result cannot be considered a victory for either side on the merits of the question, although all those strongly favoring the change voted aye.

A resolution offered by Dr. Ringwalt was adopted, as follows:

"Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring, That it is the sense of this organization that good citizenship is the fundamental principle of religion; that the church, mindful of the growing tendency to unchecked corruption in the conduct of our municipal affairs throughout the United States, the indifference to and covert countenancing of immorality, gambling and vice, places herself on record as expecting her sons to take an active part at the ballot box and elsewhere, as occasion permits, toward the suppression of these pernicious enemies to virtue and good government."

Warfare to Be Waged Against Ticket Scalpers—Chinese Minister Guest of Honor at the Banquet.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Oct. 16.—Vigorous warfare against ticket scalping is to be waged by the American Association of General Passenger and Ticket Agents, which opened its annual convention here to-day. While no action was taken on the matter today it was freely discussed, and from the tone of the discussion it was perfectly evident that drastic action against all forms of ticket frauds will be taken by the convention.

Almost one hundred of the association are in attendance.

On behalf of Thomas Cook & Sons, of London, England, the secretary of the association, A. J. Smith, of Cleveland, presented to President H. C. Townsend, of the Missouri Pacific, a handsome gavel made from wood taken from Admiral Nelson's famous battleship, and mounted in gold and silver.

Seventeen new members were admitted to the association, among them being H. H. Harrick, general passenger agent of the Southern Railway and F. C. Smith, general passenger agent of the Oahu railway, the only railway in Hawaii.

This afternoon, on special invitation of George W. Vanderbilt, the entire party of more than four hundred took a carriage drive to Biltmore, Mr. Vanderbilt's great estate.

To-night the association and assembled guests were tendered a banquet by the Southern Railway at the Battery Park hotel. It was an elaborate and beautiful function. Those who responded to toasts were his Excellency, Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister; W. A. Turk, assistant passenger traffic manager of the Southern Railway; F. E. Boothby, of the Mexican Central; P. S. Hustis, of the Burlington Route, and George W. Daniels, general passenger agent of the New York Central. Minister Wu was accorded a cordial reception, his health being drunk by the entire party standing. The evening's entertainment was concluded by a hop.

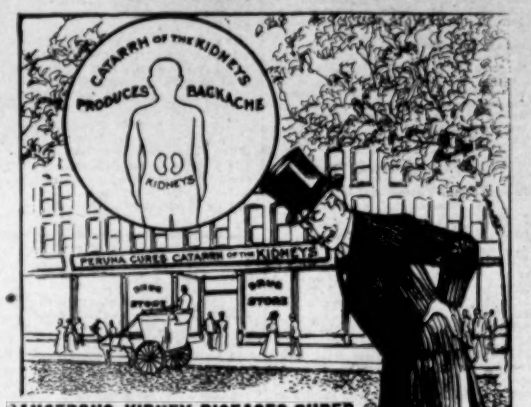
PERUNA CURES CATARRH OF KIDNEYS EVERY TIME



DANGEROUS KIDNEY DISEASES CURED

Peruna Creating a National Sensation in the Cure of Chronic Ailments of the Kidneys.

Mr. John Vance, of Hartford City, Ind. says: "My kidney trouble is much better. I have improved so much that everybody wants to know what medicine I am using. I recommend Peruna to everybody and some have commenced to use it. The folks all say that if Dr. Hartman's medicine cures me it must be great."

Mr. J. Brake, of Petrolea, Ontario, Canada, writes: "Four years ago I had a severe attack of Bright's Disease, which brought me so low the doctor said nothing more could be done for me. I began to use Peruna and Manalin, and in three months I was a well man, and have continued so ever since."

At the appearance of the first symptom of kidney trouble, Peruna should be taken. This remedy strikes at once the very root of the disease. It at once relieves the catarrhal kidneys of the stagnant blood, preventing the escape of serum from the blood. Peruna stimulates the kidneys to excrete from the blood the accumulating poison, and thus prevents the convulsions which are sure to follow if the poisons are allowed to remain. It gives great vigor to the heart's action and digestive system, both of which are apt to fail rapidly in this disease.

Peruna cures catarrh of the kidneys simply because it cures catarrh wherever located.

A book on catarrh, written by Dr. Hartman, will be sent free to any address by The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

REVOLTING TESTIMONY.

At Hearing of Charges Against Theodore and Laura Jackson in the Police Court in London.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—When the hearing of the charges against Theodore and Laura Jackson (Ann O'Delia Diss de Bar) was resumed in the police court to day, the woman entered the dock dressed in spotless white. She placed her hands together before her face and closed her eyes in the attitude of prayer. The crowded room was silent.

The hearing was devoted to revolting testimony of the behavior of the male defendant toward a young woman who was one of the victims of the pair.

As the prisoners left the dock they were hissed by the spectators. Jackson cried: "Keep quiet, you reptiles."

The testimony was of such a character that the London papers, which usually print verbatim reports of sensational criminal trials, say that in this instance they are unable to do so.

NEGRO GAMBLERS RAIDED.

An Officer Shot in the Arm—One Negro Killed—Another Wounded.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ST. AUGUSTINE, FLA., October 16.—At a house near Bonds' turpentine camp, in this county, Sheriff Perry and a number of deputized officers closed in on more than a score of negro gamblers at 2 o'clock this morning. Knowing the desperate character of the men the posse was well armed. When the officers stepped in the door with drawn guns the light was instantly extinguished and the negroes opened a fusilade with their pistols. The riot continued for several minutes. When the smoke cleared Deputy Hayden was found to be wounded in the arm. One negro was on the floor dead, and another wounded in the yard. Thirteen were arrested and seven escaped.

A NOTORIOUS BRIGAND.

Credited With Having Committed Twenty-five Murders—Captured in Italy.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

ROME, Oct. 16.—The notorious brigand Mussolino has been captured after a fierce resistance at Urbino. He had long terrorized Calabria and is credited with having committed twenty-five murders. Owing to the sympathy shown him by the peasantry he had always escaped capture, despite the immense reward the government offered for his arrest.

His career as an outlaw began two years ago when he was liberated from what he considered an unjust imprisonment. He vowed to kill the fifteen witnesses who were responsible for his conviction, and he is said to have actually dispatched twelve.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

WILMINGTON, N. C., September 28th, 1901.

To the Citizens of Wilmington and the County of New Hanover:

The Board of Managers of the James Walker Memorial Hospital beg to announce that the new Hospital, which was donated to the city and county by the late James Walker, has been completed and delivered to the Board of Managers.

Ample provision has been made by the city and county authorities for the support and maintenance of the Hospital. Before its usefulness can be realized, it must be furnished and equipped; and this duty among the first that has devolved upon the Board of Managers in assuming charge of the property. A careful estimate has been made and it is ascertained that it will require at least six thousand dollars to properly furnish and equip the Hospital. An appeal is now made to the citizens of the city and county to supply this amount. It having been suggested that many private citizens would desire to make contributions towards this purpose, the Board has decided to open subscription lists in order that an opportunity may be afforded to those who desire to do so, to contribute. These subscription lists are in the hands of Dr. C. P. Bolles, the Secretary of the Board, at the office of Messrs. Hugh MacRae & Co., Bankers, and it is hoped that liberal contributions will be promptly made. It has been decided that, in order to have the Hospital uniformly and properly equipped, the same must be done under the supervision of the Board of Managers, and that, on this account, the contributions must be in cash.

W. G. ELLIOTT, President of the Board.
